

Federal Signal Signaling Devices – IP69K Rated Models

The following models were tested to ISO 20653/IEC 60529 and are now rated with an IP69K enclosure. Since other Federal Signal models utilize the same housing enclosure that complies to the IP69K standard, the rating is extended to additional models. The below table summarizes all Federal Signal audible and visual signaling models that are IP69K rated.

For more information, reference the test reports.
